Code of Conduct

This workshop is dedicated to providing a welcoming and supportive environment for all people, regardless of background or identity. By participating in this workshop, participants accept to abide by this Code of Conduct and accept the procedures by which any Code of Conduct incidents are resolved. We do not tolerate behaviour that is disrespectful or that excludes, intimidates, or causes discomfort to others. We do not tolerate discrimination or harassment based on characteristics that include, but are not limited to, gender identity and expression, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, body size, citizenship, nationality, ethnic or social origin, pregnancy, familial status, veteran status, genetic information, religion or belief (or lack thereof), membership of a national minority, property, age, education, socio-economic status, technical choices, and experience level. Everyone who participates in workshop activities is required to conform to this Code of Conduct. It applies to all spaces managed by or affiliated with the workshop, including, but not limited to, workshops, email lists, and online forums such as GitHub, Slack and Twitter. Workshop hosts are expected to assist with the enforcement of the Code of Conduct. By participating, participants indicate their acceptance of the procedures by which the workshop resolves any Code of Conduct incidents, which may include storage and processing of their personal information.

Expected Behaviour

All participants in our events and communications are expected to show respect and courtesy to others. All interactions should be professional regardless of platform: either online or in-person. In order to foster a positive and professional learning environment we encourage the following kinds of behaviours in all workshop events and platforms:

-> Use welcoming and inclusive language.
-> Be respectful of different viewpoints and experiences.
-> Gracefully accept constructive criticism.
-> Focus on what is best for the community.
-> Show courtesy and respect towards other community members.

Unacceptable behaviour

Examples of unacceptable behaviour by participants at any workshop event/platform include:

-> Written or verbal comments which have the effect of excluding people on the basis of membership of any specific group.
-> Causing someone to fear for their safety, such as through stalking, following, or intimidation.
-> Violent threats or language directed against another person.
-> The display of sexual or violent images.
-> Unwelcome sexual attention.
-> Non - consensual or unwelcome physical contact.
-> Sustained disruption of talks, events or communications.
-> Insults or put downs.
-> Sexist, racist, homophobic, transphobic, ableist, or exclusionary jokes.
-> Excessive swearing, incitement to violence, suicide, or self-harm.
  Consequences of Unacceptable behaviour

If you believe someone is violating the Code of Conduct, we ask that you report it to any of the workshop organisers. This is a community-led workshop, and we value the involvement of everyone in the community. We are committed to creating a friendly and respectful place for learning, teaching and contributing. All participants in our events and communications are expected to show respect and courtesy to others.
To make clear what is expected, everyone participating in this conference and its activities is required to conform to the Code of Conduct. This Code of Conduct applies to all spaces affiliated with the conference, but not limited to, workshops, email lists, and online forums such as GitHub, Slack and Twitter. Workshop organisers are expected to assist with the enforcement of the Code of Conduct.

Participants who are asked to stop any inappropriate behaviour are expected to comply immediately. This applies to any workshop events and platforms, either online or in-person. If a participant engages in behaviour that violates this code of conduct, the organisers may warn the offender, ask them to leave the event or platform, or investigate the Code of Conduct violation and impose appropriate sanctions.

Penalty

Where an individual's behaviour is deemed to be below those expected of this code, the issue should be reported to the individual hosting the event. If this isn't possible, the issue can be raised with University front of house colleagues. When managing the concern, in the first instance any individual deemed to be in breach of the code will be asked to modify their behaviour/language by either the event host or University security. Where the individual continues to be in breach of the code, they will be asked to leave and where necessary the event will be closed to ensure the protection of all. We recognise that reporting incidents at the moment they take place can be difficult and concerned parties may feel vulnerable. Where an incident is reported after an event has taken place the issue will be managed in accordance Students found to be in breach of this code will be subject to the student disciplinary regulations:

-> No future entries will be accepted from the individual/organisation and will be prohibited from attending any future events.

Contact Information

These authorities can be contacted to report any incident during any event hosted by the club.

-> Chiranjeev Veer Srivastava – 6306576168
-> Priyanshi Rai - 6399006589

 Email :- cc.foet@gmail.com